

ABSTRACT

A substrate loading station includes a load/unload mechanism which unloads substrates or substrate carriers from a conveyor and loads substrates or substrate carriers onto the conveyor. The load/unload mechanism includes a rotary arm that rotates to match the speed of the conveyor to lift a substrate or substrate carrier off the conveyor or to lower a substrate or substrate carrier into engagement with the conveyor.